Transporter is a local commerce and transportation company that was originally derived to be an employee transportation app. Although there are one or two other companies out there that provide employee transportation they are not effective because of the focus put on solving the problem for the employer. We on the other hand focus on solving the transportation problem for the employee which is far more extensive than getting back and forth to work. Our dedication to improve the user's life transformed Transporter from being a simple ride sharing service into the only super app for local commerce and transportation in the country.

Transporter brings small and local businesses together on one convenient and easy to use platform to sell their goods and services. We use our local logistics capabilities to empower local merchants and service providers to deliver any product or service the same day as a local alternative to Amazon. Customers no longer have to go to multiple websites or download dozens of apps to shop at their favorite local stores.
