Midwest Solar Energy is a company that will empower many households in Nebraska and specially the African American and African communities through the use of solar energy.

Midwest Solar Energy uses softwares to optimize the cost of home solar installation and has found an innovative way to install solar panels at an affordable price. In addition Midwest Solar Energy will offer attractive financing options for solar system installation. This will facilitate families to make payment in small monthly installments.

Midwest Solar Energy will position itself to help many families to take part in this explosive trend of lowering their electric bills, and even-more to sell their surplus of energy to OPPD and make more money in the process
